

Have you ever wondered who lived in some of the magnificent old homes in Winfield? Who were they? What was their family like? What did they do in Winfield?

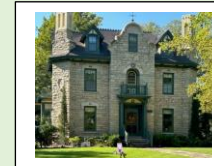

Sunday afternoon, October 8, 2-4:30 you will be able to have many of these questions answered as the Cowley County Historical Society Museum presents the “Historical Homes Porch Tour”. Costumed reenactors will be portraying one of the family members of the early homeowners relating interesting stories of their families on the porches of six historic homes. All the homes were built before 1918 and several before 1900. Be ready for a few surprises at some of the homes.

Tickets for the event are $10. They may be purchased at Graves Drug in Winfield or Cowley County Historical Society Museum, 1011 Mansfield, Winfield. They may also be purchased at each home the day of the event. The homes may be visited in any order.
